

CHIROPRACTIC

Chiropractic is a nationally registered health profession and an ATMS accredited modality.

ATMS Course Accreditation in Chiropractic is based on the course (program) being approved by the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency (AHPRA) for general registration in the Profession of Chiropractic. On this basis, ATMS accreditation of the course is reliant on the continued approved status for general registration with AHPRA.

ATMS Member Accreditation in Chiropractic is based on the practitioner holding current general registration with the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency (AHPRA) for general registration in the Profession of Chiropractic. On this basis, continued ATMS Chiropractic accreditation of the member is reliant on current and continued general practicing registration status with AHPRA.
